

Denbury Resources Inc.

Senior Division Order Analyst

Denbury Resources Inc (NYSE: DNR), a growing independent oil and natural gas company, has immediate opening for a Senior Division Order Analyst in our Plano, TX Corporate office.

Requirements

- Organized, detailed worker with 8-10 years heavy division order experience
- Must have strong computer and desktop skills so to be comfortable with large spreadsheet preparation and merging documents
- Must communicate easily with accountants, attorneys, landmen as well as interest owners
- Extensive experience with setup and maintenance of revenue and expense divisions of interest, title curative and escheat reporting
- MUST be very experienced with Microsoft Excel. We need this knowledge level to be at a very high level.
- This individual will be very comfortable with deadlines and able to prioritize well.

A Bachelor's or Associates degree is preferred but not required.

Interested applicants can apply by visiting the Careers section of www.denbury.com. You will be able to complete an application and submit your resume. We will review each and every resume that arrives. We appreciate your interest in Denbury Resources!

DRI is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is a Drug Free Environment.